write a brief physicist's response to John Ciardi

An insight, with thanks to Jess:

a response, for Ciardi:

Score for Abstraction

*Find, be or make something that is whole and tangible.
Reach your hand in and pull the insides out of it, or wipe it away, or smear it, or erase it and draw a fine grid of pencil lines over it over and over again
until you sense contentment, or inspiration, or a vision.*

 2. Read it.
 3. Read it again, this time recording it.
